The school reopened after the winter break with cheerful energy and smiling faces all around. For our existing students, it was a happy reunion with friends, teachers, and familiar routines. Classrooms once again buzzed with excitement as children eagerly shared their holiday experiences and settled back into learning.

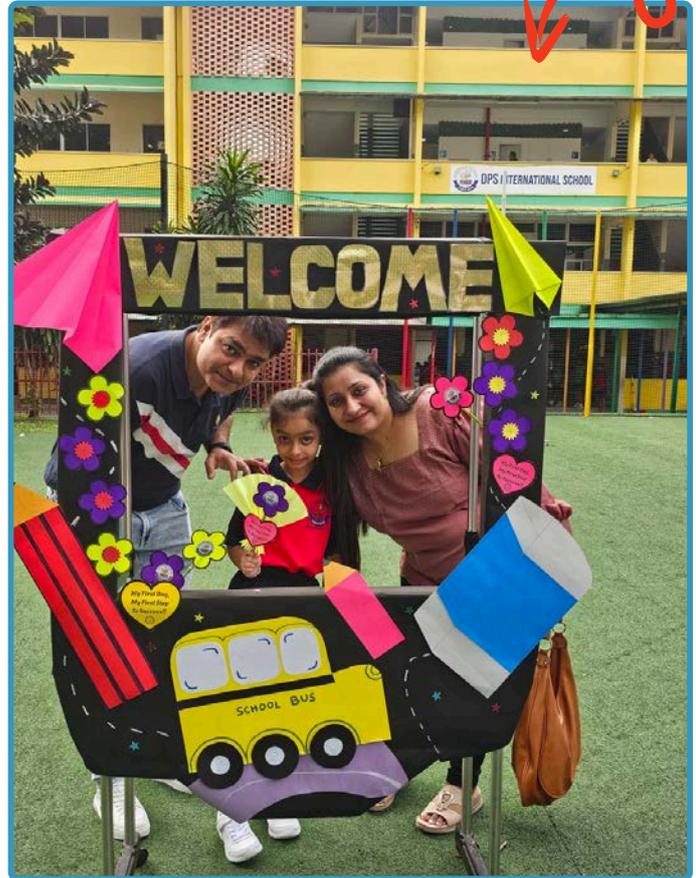

The day was especially meaningful for many new joiners and students of the Bridge Program, for whom this marked their very first day at our school. Teachers ensured a smooth and welcoming transition through ice-breaker activities, classroom orientations, and gentle guidance, helping every child feel comfortable, confident, and included.

DPS celebrated literary week from 19th Jan 2026 -23rd Jan 2026. Multiple activities were planned and executed for our budding writers and avid readers from year I to year V. Our students of year I and II were encouraged to read a book of their choice and instructed to do any one of the activities-write a short summary / draw their favorite character or scene / create a book cover or make a simple timeline showing the sequence of events in the story. They even participated in and enjoyed the character parade to the fullest. Year III students wrote a mini book review and presented the same with enthusiasm in front of their class enhancing their reading, writing and creative skills. Beautiful, insightful and captivating comic strips were made by year IV students in "My Story in Pictures" activity. They presented their work with zeal and zest. Students from year V showcased their imaginative, ingenious and artistic streaks through a story building activity "Spin A Yarn" with their friends. Literary week was indeed an opportunity for children to celebrate student engagement, improved language skills, and create a deeper love for literature.

Story Week- Kindergarten

Story Week

Our Story Week kicked off with kindergarteners exploring the art of storytelling and mastering strong semantics. Through activities that sparked creativity and imagination, the kindergarteners engaged in a story sequencing task, enhancing their comprehension skills while making learning fun. The excitement continued with a delightful puppet show featuring Tina, a little turtle who learns that playing outside is much more fulfilling than screen time. This prompted the children to reflect on her journey, embracing the lesson that outdoor play leads to greater happiness. The week concluded with a Character Parade, where the kids proudly donned costumes of their favourite story characters and superheroes, radiating joy and creativity!
